We have given in to the urge to begin our holiday shopping. We're betting you have as well. While we can't help you with your rabid sports fans, your fashion enthusiasts or your favorite golfers, we can certainly give you some helpful hints for gifts to give the food people in your life.

So far, our gift guides have included the boozehound, the novice cook, the serious chef and the lover of food jewelry, among others. We even figured out some great food gifts you can make yourself. Today, we dug through Etsy to find handmade food gifts for one of our favorite kinds of gift-receivers -- the ones who just love to eat. We love to buy holiday gifts from Etsy, because it means we get to support artists and food-producers directly, plus the gifts tend to be one-of-a-kind.
